1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 7/9/2010 has been entered.
3. Claims 45-50 and 52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Midgley et al. (US 1,394,928) taken in view of Caretta et al. (US 6,409,959) and Clinefelter et al. (US 1,407,839), and optionally further in view of Caretta (US 6,332,999).

These references are applied for substantially the same reasons as set forth in the last office action. As to the amendments to claim 45, the core in Midgley et al. is adapted to support an unvulcanized tire and is received within the airtight device (esp. fig. 10). Further a vulcanization mold (67/68) is shown that is configured to receive the toroidal support and unvulcanized tire. A feeding device for a secondary fluid (through "60") that engages the airtight device and can supply a secondary fluid to an outside surface of the tire is also taught. As to the requirement that "the vulcanization mold is disposed outside the airtight device," it is not considered that this distinguishes the Midgley et al. teachings as the mold 67/68 is removed/removable from the airtight device. As to the requirement for the airtight device comprising a duct for feeding a primary working fluid, note parts 62-64 which feed fluid to the core, it being again noted that providing passages in the core would have been obvious in view of the secondary references for the reasons of record.

4. Claim 51 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Midgley et al. (US 1,394,928) taken in view of Caretta et al. (US 6,409,959) and Clinefelter et al. (US 1,407,839) as applied above, and further in view of Kobayashi (US 6,350,402) as applied in the last office action.

5. Claims 27-29 and 31-44 are allowed for the reasons of record.

6. Applicant's arguments filed 7/9/2010 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive as regards the remaining rejections.

The previous rejection of claims 40-44 has however been withdrawn in view of the amendments to claim 40 and associated comments.

The arguments with respect to claim 45 stress the new language added to the claim. For the reasons detailed in the statement of rejection above, however, it is not considered that this claim at present patentably defines over the applied prior art.
